

The Art Institutes®

Fact Sheet

WHO WE ARE

The Art Institutes (www.artinstitutes.edu) is a system of schools located throughout the United States and extends back to 1921, when The Art Institute of Pittsburgh opened its doors. The Art Institutes system of schools provides an important source for design, media arts and culinary professionals. Several institutions included in The Art Institutes schools are campuses of Argosy University.

Each Art Institutes school is licensed by the state in which it is located and accredited by accrediting bodies recognized by the U.S. Department of Education.

The Art Institutes are approved for the training of veterans and eligible veterans' dependents to utilize U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs education benefits and participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program for all eligible Post 9/11 GI Bill® recipients. The Art Institutes system of schools has also signed the Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of Defense (DoD), allowing military members to utilize tuition assistance. We value the service of our military members and veterans and offer institutional scholarships to those eligible.

GI Bill® is a registered trademark of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). More information about education benefits offered by VA is available at the official U.S. government Web site at http://www.benefits.va.gov/GIBILL/Trademark_Terms_of_Use.asp.

Twenty-five Art Institutes locations are non-profit education institutions owned and managed by Dream Center Education Holdings, LLC (DCEH) which DCEH acquired from Education Management Corporation (EDMC) on October 17, 2017. Six Art Institutes locations accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) or Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) are for-profit education institutions owned and managed by EDMC. EDMC has agreed to sell the locations accredited by HLC and MSCHE to subsidiaries of the Dream Center Foundation, a non-profit foundation, subject to regulatory, accreditation and state licensing approval. The closing is expected to occur in late 2017 or early 2018. In addition, there are six Art Institutes locations owned and managed by EDMC that are no longer accepting new enrollments.

The Art Institutes is a system of schools through the United States. Programs, credential levels, technology, and scheduling options vary by school and are subject to change. WHAT WE DO

The Art Institutes schools offer associate, bachelor, and master's degree programs, as well as certificate and diploma programs. Students pursue their degrees through campuses, fully-online programs and blended formats, which combine campus-based and online education.

The Art Institutes focus on applied arts in creative areas such as graphic design, media arts and animation, culinary arts, photography, digital filmmaking and video production, interior design, audio production, fashion design, game art and design, baking and pastry, and fashion marketing. Not all program areas and degree levels are offered at all schools.

The Art Institutes schools offer programs in a variety of formats - including traditional classroom work, online learning and night and weekend programs. In addition, The Art Institutes sponsor a variety of competitions each year focused on fashion design, graphic design, film, and culinary.
