

South Mission Statement

South University is a private academic institution dedicated to providing educational opportunities for the intellectual, social, and professional development of a diverse student population.

To achieve this purpose, the institution offers focused and balanced curricula at the associate's, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral levels. A broad-based core curriculum is offered promoting critical thinking, effective verbal and written communication, and skills for life-long learning. Additionally, the University focuses on developing the requisites to pursue and appreciate knowledge. South University's approach to higher education and the resulting varied academic experiences provide students with the intellectual acumen and pragmatic approach necessary to create the foundation for personal and professional fulfillment. South University attempts to provide a comprehensive education that instills within its students a philosophy that values not only learning and professionalism but also contribution and commitment to the advancement of community.

Believing that qualified individuals should have the privilege of formal academic training, South University welcomes those who seek educational challenges. To this end, the University provides a learning environment, both on-campus and online, that helps students identify goals and the means to achieve them. With this philosophy in mind, students learn by interacting with a community of faculty, staff and administration dedicated to South University's academic purpose.

South University Adjunct Faculty Information

South's online courses are offered in a five and a half or eleven week asynchronous, internet-based mode. Each interactive course includes lectures, discussions, individual/group assignments, and critiques. Instructional designers, faculty teams, and industry experts have designed all courses. Faculty members are required to teach the course as it has been developed. Faculty should draw on their own professional expertise to assist students with difficult concepts and to provide personalized feedback to their assignments.

Online Faculty Expectations for South

Each adjunct faculty member is required to work with a full-time faculty mentor throughout their teaching experience. Each course is taught as developed using the stated course competencies, assignments, texts, digital books, etc. Faculty members are encouraged to use their experience and knowledge to help the students meet course objectives. Each faculty member must log-in to the online classroom to teach and facilitate discussion five days a week without missing two consecutive days. While in the online classroom, faculty must make appropriate contact information available to all students, which includes three "virtual" office hours, an email address, and either a telephone number (if used), IM address (if used), or Skype address (if used). Virtual office hours provide set days/times (at the faculty member's discretion) to provide further opportunities for students to ask questions and seek assistance, often coinciding with assignments' due dates. Faculty members are expected to respond to questions from students, administration, and academic counselors within 24 hours during the week and 24 to 48 hours on weekends. Faculty must grade each assignment within 48 hours of its due date, including any grades due at the end of the week. Final course grades are due within 48 hours of the completion of the course.

Qualifications

To maintain its exemplary level of academic standards, South University requires all adjunct faculty to meet the educational and professional standards of the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30333-4097, <http://www.sacscoc.org/>).

In accordance to these standards, a minimum of a master's degree and 18 graduate semester credit hours in the area in which the faculty member is applying for are required. The degrees must be from a regionally accredited institution. Please note many courses require a doctoral degree. For additional information, please see the "Position Requirements" section of the attached Online Faculty Position Description.

Next Steps: Continuing the Application Process

- 1) Candidates interested in becoming an adjunct faculty member with South University, Online Programs should complete the online application: <http://www.socratesdistancelearning.com/suo/teaching.html>.
- 2) Once a candidate's application is complete, it will be reviewed by South University, Online Programs Faculty Recruitment Team. If the candidate's background matches one or more current openings, they will be contacted via e-mail. If a candidate's background does not match South University, Online Programs' needs at that time, the application will be kept on file so the candidate may be contacted should future opportunities arise.
- 3) If a candidate's background does match South University, Online Programs' needs, transcripts will be requested via e-mail from the candidate. The candidate should have their transcripts sent directly to South University, Online Programs at the address indicated in the e-mail. South University, Online Programs requires that candidates send transcripts for all degrees obtained. International degrees must be evaluated (at the candidate's initiative) to verify U.S. equivalency. These must be course-by-course evaluations. (Note: www.ECE.org is a resource site for international equivalency documentation.)
- 4) Once transcripts are received, the candidate's materials will be sent for evaluation to the appropriate academic departmental representative. At that time, the departmental representative determines the courses which the candidate is qualified to instruct based on specific coursework contained in the transcripts. If the candidate is credentialed for one or more courses, the candidate is notified via e-mail of the credentialed courses. If the candidate is declined for credentialing, the candidate is notified via e-mail of the decision and their information will remain filed with South University, Online Programs should future opportunities arise.
- 5) If the candidate is credentialed for one or more courses, South University, Online Programs Faculty Scheduling Team will work to place the candidate in an open course and invite them to complete faculty orientation. Note that course openings rely on student enrollment; therefore, each course does not run every term. South University asks for the candidate's patience during this process. Once a course is available, an e-mail is sent to the candidate from the Faculty Scheduling Team two to four weeks prior to the start of the course.

For any questions, please contact South University Faculty Recruitment Team at onlinefacultyrecruit@edmc.edu.

Online Facilitator Training Course

All adjunct faculty members who desire to teach online are required to successfully complete the three week Online Facilitator Orientation Course provided by South University prior to starting their first class. The course simulates the online environment in which students of South University will be participating and faculty of South University will be teaching. It also introduces faculty to the expectations and best instructional practices at South University. Faculty will receive a log-in to this course when they have been scheduled for their first course. Please note that failure to complete the orientation as directed will result in an adjunct faculty member being removed from his/her course.

Goals of the Online Facilitator Training Course

Upon successful completion of the three week training, faculty should be able to:

- Facilitate an online process that has a significant requirement for student interaction as contrasted to lecture-type formats typically used in on-ground environments
- Navigate the online classroom and assist students in navigating the online classroom
- Use learning-centered strategies to engage the student
- Explain South University's expectations of its students and instructors
